EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN]

A Railway Investigation Develops a Huge Credit Mobilier.

BOSTON Feb 18.—Dispatches give account of a meeting of stockholders of the Chicago Dubuque and Minnesota Railroad held there yesterday at which the report of the committee previously appointed to investigate the management of these roads was received The report says the director of the roads formed a construction company on the credit mobilier plan bargained with themselves to build the roads and having completed them absorbed the bonds and many thousand acres of valuable lands to an aggregate amount put by the committee at one and a quarter millions. The directors are J. K Graves, a well known railroad man of Dubuque, J A Kohlber, also of Dubuque J M Walker of Chicago J F Joy of Detroit Nathan Thayer J M Brooks and Sidney Bartlett of Boston. The high standing of all these parties add to the suspicion created by these alleged disclosures Joy, who was present made a long defense of himself and the other director which was not however well received and resolutions were adopted expressing the regret of stockholders at hearing the report of such gross mismanagement and at the meagre explanation on important points which the parties are responsible for and it has chosen to give also requesting the committee to persist in an effort to get from third rectors of the rival roads and other sources such information as they deem necessary to take best legal advice as to remedy and when ready, call another meeting for further action

Luttrell Wants to be Re-elected.

Representative Luttrell says that although he has informed his friends in California that he would decline a re-nomination, he has now at the request of a number of Democrats and Independent Republican Congressmen reconsidered his determination and will ask to be returned in order to carry on ... in the next House his movement for the investigation of the Central Pacific Railroad and Contract and Finance Company, and his fight against the postal ring and other corruptions

Senator Hager Explains.

WASHINGTON, Feb 18.—Senator Hager, referring to the recent assault made upon him by the St Louis Republican regarding his course on the Pacific bill and insinuations that he had sold out to the Central Pacific Railroad Co, says he has strenuously opposed the Central Pacific's proposition to amend Scott's bill in their interests and has even urged members of the committee who do not entertain constitutional objections to subsidies and who are not like himself pledged against them to vote for the bill. He has also, with a view to prevent its being smothered in the committee advised that it be reported to the Senate, if necessary without recommendation and submitted not as a subsidy bill but as a proposition to give up lands to the government and be given something else in exchange. In short he wishes to see Scott's road built but by pledges and constitutional objections feels unable to vote for the bill

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON Feb 18 —In the Senate at 4 A M Hager yielded the floor for a motion to adjourn which was rejected—yeas 1 nays ... and the discussion continued.

Ransom then took the floor and spoke at some length of his desire to restore peace and good will between the North and South Ransom spoke till noon when he was obliged to stop on account of exhaustion, and asked the privilege of being heard hereafter.

Boutwell then took the floor

At half past 3 Morrill of Maine, appealed to Morton to allow the resolution for the admission of Pinchback to be laid aside, that the Indian appropriation bill might be considered

Morton declined saying its disposition was of more importance than the appropriation bills If they failed an extra session would have to be called and the responsibility would not be with the Republicans.

Morrill of Maine then at 4 P M moved to lay the resolution for the admission of Pinchback on the table. Carried 30 to 22.

Nays—Boreman Cameron Chandler Clayton Conover, Cragin, Ferry of Michigan Flanagan Hamilton, Harvey Howes, Jones, Logan Morton Oglesby, Patterson Pratt Ramsey Sargent Spencer Stewart and West—22

Windom moved that the Senate proceed with the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill Windom explained that the amount appropriated for the present fiscal year is $5,600,000 and for the year ending June 1 1876 $5,277,131 Several unimportant amendments reported by the committee were agreed to

A resolution providing that on and after Saturday next the Senate meet at 11 A M was agreed to

Pending the discussion of the Indian appropriation bill, the Senate after a continuous session of nearly 29 hours adjourned

House.

The House went into committee of the whole on the revenue bill The first vote was on Southard's amendment, as amended by Cox's amendment to strike out the first section relating to the whisky tax. Rejected—yeas 61 nays 16

Randall then moved to amend the first section by making the tax on whisky 60 cents instead of $1 Adopted—96 to 88

Dawes explained that the effect of this would be to tax stock on hand $1 per gallon. The amendment was rejected

Kasson on behalf of the committee offered an amendment providing that the tax on spirits contracted to be delivered before the 1st of February shall be paid by the purchaser Adopted

Archer moved to strike out the enacting clause Lost—6 to 68

Finally the first section was allowed to stand so far as the tax on whisky was concerned The second section in regard to tobacco was then read Various amendments looking to the reduction of the duty, were offered and rejected The principal amendments adopted were the first amendment in regard to contracts similar in its provisions to that relative to whisky in the first section and the second amendment ... the tax on cigars which now ... on ... rettes were raised from 50 to 75 cents

At 2 P M the further consideration of the bill was postponed

The secretary of war says the average cost of operation and maintenance of the government telegraph in Arizona has been $906 a month and the revenue from private messages $757 a month The line will in future be operated by the signal corps and the cost of hiring civilian operators will be saved

THE TILTON-BEECHER CASE.

Tilton Finishes and another Witness Begins.

NEW YORK Feb 18—In the Beecher trial Tilton was again called to the stand and ... [illegible] Sheaman ... things to her after she went to Ovington's He testified to having told Kate McDonald ... of his house to send several trunks of his wife's things to her after she left Witness ... an ... the ... lord and Leavitt and ... but could not ... gave them ... of Dr Storrs ... of ... on Fulton street ... for all I know ... Kate McDonald that Mrs Tilton could ... wanted by calling for it

Tilton then vacated the stand and ... a member of Plymouth church was sworn He ... to being at ... when Tilton came there one day and they all talked of the so called scandal

Witness was present at this interview which lasted over four hours at the ... of ... and Halliday The interview ... Halliday ... at the request of Moulton who told him that action would be taken by Plymouth church on the scandal and that Moulton had thought it would be best that the deacons of the church ... their ... He then went on to tell his troubles with Bowen and the Independent I urged him to make denial of the stories against his wife and the pastor He replied he could not make this denial for he thought there was something in this story—an underlying truth which might make it worse for Beecher I asked him what proof there was of this He said the proof exists in writing above the signature of Beecher Witness asked him to give him the proof Tilton said he could not as it was not in his possession but he would let him see it Tilton said the letters were in the possession of Moulton and if they (witness and Halliday) went in their official capacity to Moulton they might see the letters The last two hours of the interview were spent in urging Tilton to let them see the letters

During the interview Tilton went at length into his acquaintance with Mrs Woodhull which he said was for the purpose of repressing the scandal she threatened to publish Witness went to Halliday at the request of Beecher who wanted him to have the deacons meeting which he supposed was to be held that night postponed as he (Beecher) was going to Boston Halliday told witness on announcing his errand, that Beecher was mistaken that the deacons would not meet. Witness was still a member of Plymouth church and was frequently a member of the examining committee, and a deacon Fullerton now turned the witness over to the defense

Evarts moved that all the testimony of this witness should be stricken out with the exception of that portion relating to the interview with Tilton The motion was denied and exception was taken.

Shearman cross examined the witness Witness thought the rumor of a deacons meeting arose from erroneous views of the conversation with the committee on the previous Friday evening

It was the general opinion of Plymouth church people after the publication of the Woodhull card that neither Beecher nor the church should notice it It was the prevailing feeling that Mr and Mrs Tilton would contradict the stories but when they did not the feeling changed and it was thought the church and Beecher should not ... them. None of us at the time had the remotest shadow of an idea of Beecher's guilt, did not understand Tilton's objection to the deacons meeting was because of his opposition to any attack on Beecher

Witness was then questioned as to the consultation between Mr and Mrs Beecher and others sometime near the close of 1874 in regard to the affairs of the Tilton family

Fullerton objected and the court ruled out the question

A series of questions all designed to bring out the same testimony were then asked by the defense and objected to by the prosecution, and all ruled out. Recess

After recess Shearman announced the cross examination of Bell closed Bell then said two or three points had come to him during recess one of them was that during the interview Tilton said Beecher had committed an offense against his family which he would not designate also said Mrs Tilton was pure using a strong expression to convey his meaning. He also said if the deacons held a meeting they should go to Beecher for information and not come to him

The Brother of Mrs Tilton on the Stand.

The next witness was Joseph Richards brother of Mrs. Tilton who said he resided at Montclair, N J but lived ten years ago in New York He often visited Tilton's house considered his home a model one in every respect. He thought this was so prior to July 1870 Tilton's conduct to his family was generous, loving and kind He knew Henry Ward Beecher when witness was publisher of the Independent. He saw him very frequently probably for eight years. Probably met Beecher first at Tilton's house in Livingston street. Once called at Tilton's house at 11 in the forenoon and going into the parlor saw Beecher sitting in the room and Mrs Tilton with flushed face and hasty motion leaving her position beside him. (Witness here explained to the court that he was here from dire necessity and not of his own seeking and that he was placed in a very cruel position) He continued The action of his sister left an impression on his mind Witness didn't remain long in the parlor

Cross examined by Evarts When I went into the room I greeted Beecher and my sister and requested Beecher who had risen to be seated I entered the house in the usual familiar manner and unannounced and left the house ... Beecher did ... don't remember seeing my sister again that day

Redirect examination by Fullerton A subpoena had been served on me in the ... I ... time to time I spoke to my wife about what I saw at the house on the day it occurred Also spoke to his brother in law Butler about it a month ago

Jeremiah Robinson, Testifies.

Robinson the next witness testified that he lived in Brooklyn Had been acquainted with Beecher for 2 or 3 years met Beecher and Moulton last 4th of July on Montague street, near my house. Moulton said he hadn't seen me for sometime I replied No! You could have seen me if you wanted to Beecher replied, Don't be too hard on my friend Moulton he is as good a friend as ever God raised up for me and if it had not been for him I don't think I could be alive now

The cross examination by Evarts simply elicited the information that Mrs. Moulton was the witness's niece and Moulton was his partner

Wm Astor Beysted, the next Witness

Testified to knowing the parties to the action and to having seen Beecher on the stoop of Tilton's house a number of times once about 6 o'clock in the morning The cross examination developed nothing and court adjourned

EAST OF THE MOUNTAINS.

The Dalles Mountaineer speaking of the weather and condition of stock in Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory in its issue of Feb 13th says

From Mr Michael Flanigan, who lives on the east side of the Deschutes, in Wasco county we learn that cattle are doing quite well in that vicinity and if the weather does not get any worse than at present he expects to have a large band of beef cattle to sell in the spring

From Chamberlain Flat W T we learn by private letter that the weather has been very cold but that the stock are doing well Should the cold weather continue much longer the loss is bound to be severe in that section

From the Walla Walla papers we learn that large numbers of stock have perished and will continue to die unless the weather changes

Mr D G Leonard of South Wasco county says the stock in that section of the bunchgrass country seems to be doing well The weather there has been pure warm and pleasant All the hill sides exposed to the sun are bare of snow

Mr Robert French ... of ... W T reports that the weather on the top of the Klickitat mountain on that morning was perfectly delightful He found the sun shining clear and warm as soon as he got above the band of fog that covered the valley below The winter has been very severe in the Klickitat valley and the chances for a speedy change he reports as rather unfavorable

There is a very strong probability that good beef cattle will command a high price the coming spring. We are inclined to think there will be a ... of ... stock—basing our prognostications upon the reports found in our exchanges of the number of dead and dying Those of our stock men who have taken the precaution to prepare feed for their stock will no doubt be well rewarded this season for so doing

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The president coming in took the chair at 1 35 P M On the motion of Mr W R Dunbar the convention proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year

Nominations for president were called for W R Dunbar and Professor Powell were nominated The latter declined the nomination

On motion the rule to elect the president by ballot was suspended, and a motion to elect by acclamation was carried W R Dunbar was thus unanimously elected president for the ensuing year

A similar motion was made to elect the vice presidents by acclamation but the voice of the convention was decidedly opposed to it and the rule to elect by ballot was sustained

The following persons were nominated for vice presidents Mrs W P Fain, Rev D J Pierce Jacob Conser B H Bellinger Mrs B W Cooke Dr John Boswell Rev Clinton Kelly and Rev J H Parrish Rev Mr Pierce of Portland, declined the nomination

On motion of Dr Boswell it was resolved that the three names having the largest number of votes be declared elected A lengthened discussion took place as to the right of delegates representing more than one organization having more than one vote

THE RETIRING PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Prof Powell in leaving the chair spoke of the imperfect manner in which he had discharged his duties during his year of office He was however satisfied that the cause of temperance is taking a deep hold on the masses of the people in the State. The late legislature was more favorable to the temperance cause than any former one and the conduct of the members of the legislature were practical illustrations of this fact He paid a high compliment to Col C A Reed as the leader in the House of Representatives on this question, and that under his leadership an important temperance law passed the House by a large majority but failed in the Senate for want of more warm friends He closed his telling address by introducing the newly elected president

MR W R DUNBAR

Mr Dunbar thanked the convention for the high compliment paid him by electing him to the honorable and responsible office of President of the Alliance that nothing will be wanting on his part to do his whole duty to the Alliance and to further the cause of temperance generally In his extensive travels over the State he could truly say that there is a strong feeling and steadily growing in favor of our common cause among leading citizens and Christians of all denominations

SHORT ADDRESSES

On motion of Professor Powell Mrs Dr Thompson of Portland was invited to address the convention Mrs Thompson was introduced in a complimentary manner by the president In her speech she referred in a pointed telling manner to the world wide evils of intemperance and spoke at some length on some of the remedies for this monster evil She demanded that men should be punished socially and otherwise as women are punished and ostracized for intemperance and other immoral conduct When bad men are treated as fallen women are, boys held to the same strict account as girls are and the social and moral rule applied to men as to women, then the ax will be laid to the root of the evil and not till then Mrs. Thompson gave an interesting account of her late visit to Honolulu. There saloon keepers have to pay $1,000 for a license, give bonds for $1,000 for good conduct and are fined $500 and the license withdrawn for giving intoxicating drink to a native The humane, benevolent and educational institutions of the Island were stated with clearness and force by Mrs Thompson and listened to with great attention

It was then moved to reconsider the original vote limiting each delegate to one vote Mr Conser spoke at length and forcibly in favor of this motion, and was supported by Mrs Cooke Dr Gray Mr J Case and Rev Mr Dimick Col Reed was decidedly opposed to reconsider Mrs Duniway and others took the same view The motion to reconsider was lost by a standing vote of 21 to 33

THE TEMPERANCE STAR

Mr Luban Case was generally called for to make a speech After the usual apology, he made a lengthened harmonious and earnest appeal in behalf of giving a liberal and generous support to the Temperance Star newspaper He urged on the members of the convention to only vote for candidates to the legislature men known to be tried friends of the temperance cause and never to cease working until the grand object was accomplished—the final triumph of total and unconditional prohibition of intoxicating drinks Mr Case's speech was received with frequent marks of applause

The choir gave some appropriate pieces of music

Mr Allen was allowed to speak a second time, which he did with much earnestness, in support of the resolutions

The Bad Lands of Northern Wyoming are, in all probability the most curious plains in the world Stretching far away from the foot of the Black Hills, the Bad Land region has been looked upon with awe by the Indians as it is now looked upon with curiosity by white men Lately Prof Marsh of Yale College, entered the region in search of fossils and other curious geological formations in which the country abounds to a remarkable degree Severe weather resisting Indians and hard marches did not daunt the scientist, and he has finished his trip with gratifying results Great fossil beds of the miocene age were discovered rich in specimens beyond expectations Nearly two tons of bones were collected the remains of ancient animals many of which are unknown to science. The bed of an ancient lake was the resting place of the animal remains which were nearly all of the tropical species Many of the bones were of immense size

LATITUDE ENOUGH.

One of the most common criticisms of the rules of judicial investigation is, that they often exclude, upon purely technical grounds, evidence that might throw much light upon the subject under examination. And this criticism comes not mainly from the ignorant and vulgar, as much that is said against legal proceedings does, but generally from the intelligent of other than the legal profession. It seems, these critics say, contrary to natural reason, that any matter should be excluded from being given in evidence which, under the circumstances of the particular case, might aid the trier in arriving at the very truth of the matter. And this was the spirit of the Roman law, which permitted the introduction of everything that had any possible bearing, however remote, upon the controversy. Such also appears to be the continental mode of procedure to this day. So the lawyers under our English jurisprudence have not even the support of their own profession in other countries, in adhering to their technical rules for determining who is a "competent" witness and who is not; what is primary and what secondary evidence; what is relevant and what irrelevant, and the multitude of other points too fine for the untrained intellect to apprehend. Nevertheless, we have supposed the lawyers were able to hold their own in the discussion—or at least to hold on to their rules, which is still better. But that is not quite apparent in the light of the famous scandal trial that is just now occupying the attention of the public mind and a New York court. The judge appears to rule very much like a lawyer, and the lawyers certainly argue exactly like lawyers; but somehow a door is left open here and a loop-hole there, until enough of every impertinent story gets in to make the whole of it admissible under those identical rules made to guard against such evidence. The result is that the court—and Plymouth church which fills the lobby daily—is entertained with the reading of the rancid story published in 1872 by Woodhull & Claflin, recitations of Tilton's little poetical effusions of earlier days (even to the little "Baby Bye" lullaby, so musical and sweet it almost puts grown up babies to sleep), long prosy letters of Tilton's on the subject of marriage and divorce, editorials from the Independent, and, finally, articles from outside publications with which none of the parties had anything to do, and the only bearing of which on the case is that they relate to one or other of the parties concerned, but in nowise to the scandal itself. Surely those who think the ordinary rules of judicial investigation restrict inquiry within too narrow limits, will not make that complaint against the Tilton-Beecher trial! There is ample latitude and liberality, we take it, to satisfy any one, in the proceedings which permit the views of the plaintiff on the subject of the domestic relations, his editorials in a religious newspaper, his poetical fancies, and even his nursery rhymes, to be given in evidence in order to find out whether his wife has been seduced by the pastor of his church.

LOUISIANA AGAIN.

Readers of the Bulletin have been repeatedly informed that the leading Republican papers in the East, which, on receiving the first reports of the action of the military in Louisiana, pronounced it unconstitutional and unlawful, changed their views entirely after a day or two, when additional facts had been received. This has been stated especially in regard to the New York Times, which, by reason of its location coupled with excellent management, is justly regarded as the leading Republican journal of the country. To those who are in some degree familiar with the conduct of the great Republican journals in the East, it would seem too strange and unusual a thing for credence, that they would commit themselves to unqualified opposition to the course of the Government upon a matter of such gravity as this Louisiana difficulty, without being reasonably certain with relation to the facts in the premises, and with the law applicable to those facts. It is not the habit of the New York Times, the Boston Journal and Advertiser, to assume a position upon any important subject without due consideration, and the less would they do so when the position about to be assumed would place them in antagonism to the Administration. It would require pretty strong evidence to convince the intelligent reader that the characteristic discretion of those journals had deserted them in this one case, and that in consequence they had taken ground one day, upon an imperfect knowledge of the facts, which the next day they would be compelled to abandon.

Those who reason thus reason correctly. With a tone scarcely moderated by the lapse of time and the subsidence of the popular excitement, the same papers take the same ground now as they took at first. The Times, always temperate, and nearly always right, still treats the matter as of great moment, and still maintains that the facts did not call for or justify the intervention of the military. We publish elsewhere in this paper, at full length, the leading editorial article of that journal of date Feb. 1st, entitled "Federal Government of Louisiana," which we hope all our Republican readers, and all readers of the Bulletin into whose hands this paper shall come, will carefully peruse. The views therein expressed are the views that guided the fathers of the Republic in framing its great charter, and which have saved it from ruin more than once in its history. And whenever this safe and solid ground, on which have stood all the great pillars of the nation from Washington to Lincoln, shall be lost, whether that event be brought about through the influence of vindictive passions, the agitation attendant on some great popular alarm, or the slow educational process of replacing healthy American ideas of civil government with imperial monstrosities, the day will have come for which the enemies of free government everywhere have looked and longed during all the years of our national existence.

WILL THE BULLETIN RETRACT?

In yesterday's Bulletin was paraded, with extended comments and much unseemly glorification, an anonymous letter purporting to have come from Independence, Polk county, and dated February 13th, the point to which was in this passage:

> The feeling of indignation against the OREGONIAN's course in getting a monopoly of the telegraphic dispatches, "doctored" in San Francisco to suit its ring of speculators, has gone so far in the Bulletin's favor as to throw the monopoly journal almost entirely out of existence here. Of the dozen WEEKLY OREGONIANS takin here prior to the Louisiana trouble, NOT ONE NOW REMAINS.

Italics and caps are the Bulletin's.

The Bulletin, in its anxiety for items whose publication may injure the OREGONIAN, has suffered itself to be imposed upon again, as it has done so many times heretofore. The correspondent either did not know whereof he wrote, or willingly misrepresented. The WEEKLY OREGONIAN has to-day a handsome list of subscribers at Independence, and exactly the same number it had when the Louisiana affair took place. This we can prove to the satisfaction of the Bulletin if it is not satisfied. And besides the WEEKLY, we send quite a number of DAILIES to Independence. We shall see whether the Bulletin will have the candor to correct its statement in this matter.

THE NEW TARIFF BILL.

The telegraphic news this morning indicates the passage of the Dawes tariff bill without material change. A hard struggle took place yesterday in the House over the whisky tax in the first section, but the opposition made little real headway, the reduction from a dollar to ninety cents being the extent of their success. The tobacco tax, it seems, is to stand as reported. It looks as if the case were well worked up, and it is highly improbable anything but want of time can defeat the bill.

This or some other expedient for increasing the revenues of the Government must be adopted or the national finances will get into even worse disorder than they are now. The receipts are not equal to the expenditures, and the public debt, instead of decreasing, is increasing from month to month. It is for Congress to devise ways and means to meet the exigency, and although it is rather late in the season to begin, it is better now than never.

We gave our readers, a few days since, the full text of the pending bill, by telegraph.

THE PINCHBACK RESOLUTION TABLED.

After a continuous session of twenty-nine hours, the Senate yesterday afternoon tabled the resolution to admit Pinchback by a vote of 39 to 22. The full proceedings and the yeas and nays will be found among the Congressional proceedings in our special telegrams.

Some of the Democratic papers of the Atlantic States speak out in unqualified condemnation of the filibustering done by the Democratic members of the House to prevent the passage of the civil rights bill. It is likely that the majority of the party organs will attempt to justify and excuse the indecent behavior; but it is encouraging to see that any of them have the courage and independence to denounce it. If such conduct as that is to signalize the inauguration of Democratic ascendency in the House, it is safe to predict that ascendency will be of short duration. The ruling force of the next House must be composed of different men from those who lead the opposition in the present House, or the Democratic lease of power will terminate just two years from the 4th day of next month.

The loss of Miller & Hendricks' flouring mill at Wheatland, is an occurrence to be much regretted. The destruction of manufacturing property of any class, is a much more serious loss to the community than the loss of an equal amount of other property.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT OF LOUISIANA.

Every fresh face which affairs in Louisiana put on makes it more clear that the policy which requires constant intervention from Washington is very difficult to carry out, and very liable to produce error, vexation, and confusion. And this is only an additional illustration of the soundness of the principle on which the Constitution fixed the relations of the States to the General Government. That principle was that the more strictly the management of public affairs could be confined to those directly interested in them, the more likely they were to be well managed. It is worth noting that this conception does not imply that there will be perfect management in any case, but that the mistakes will be reduced to the minimum when matters are left to those immediately concerned in them.

By the inaction of Congress, and by some erroneous ideas of his own duties, the President has been partly compelled and partly betrayed into adopting a policy which contradicts this principle in many particulars. He started with the fact that when he was appealed to by two contending State governments to exercise his constitutional power of protecting the State from violence, he must decide which call was binding on him; to that he added the other fact, that it was his duty to enforce the orders of the courts of the United States; and from these he correctly judged that he must sustain either the Kellogg government or its opponents, and he did the former. But that one step was followed by many others, the principal characteristic of which was, as it seems to us, that they went upon the notion that the responsibility of the Federal Government for good order in Louisiana is primary and not secondary, whereas the reverse is the case. The President, having decided that Mr. Kellogg was to be sustained as governor, was not called upon to bring the powers of the United States to the aid of the latter until he had exhausted, or at least brought into play, all his own resources. This certainly was not the theory that seems to have controlled the action of the executive. The troops have been freely used in anticipation of violence, and sometimes when the reasons for such anticipation were very slight. Other things being equal, prevention was better than cure. But other things were not equal. The authority of the President and his duty were not like those of Gov. Kellogg. The latter was bound by every consideration to foresee the danger of outbreak and to provide against it if he could. But the former was only commissioned to interfere as a last resort.

By the curious policy that has been adopted the governor has really been largely ignored, and the President has come to be regarded as the prime authority in the State. Both parties are only too ready to adopt this view. It enables the Kellogg men to enjoy the fruits of power without its responsibilities, and it enables the Conservatives to obstinately refuse any recognition of the State government, while yielding to its behests when backed by the federal forces. Substantially the Federal Administration governs Louisiana to-day. Both factions admit it. Kellogg knows he could not maintain himself an hour without federal help. The Conservatives recognize no other authority as binding.

Few, we imagine, will contend that this state of affairs under any circumstances was contemplated by the constitution. It is, on the contrary, wholly foreign to its purpose and its spirit, however sincere may have been the desire of the President to carry out rather than to go counter to the constitution. And the worst of the matter is, that the longer this state of things continues, the worse it becomes. There is much cause for believing that if the two parties in Louisiana had been more left to themselves they would have been compelled to make peace with each other before now. Many indications point that way. The Republican leaders have frequently been divided; the conservatives have several times been the same, if there had been no other way out of their difficulties, is it too much to believe that portions of each party would have come together and carried into execution some form of compromise? This is what happens in other States when differences as important if not as violent occur. Doubtless in such a solution some interests would have suffered. But if we are going to wait until the people of Louisiana are prepared to set up a state of society pure and peaceful as Eden before the fall, before we turn their own affairs over to them, we shall have to wait till the millennium. Then the constitution may be safely ignored. But until then we would do well to consider carefully its wise and practical provisions, and these require that the Federal government shall not move in State matters until it is compelled to do so.

ABOUT THE DALLES MAIL.—Under the caption of "The Facts in the Case," the Dalles Mountaineer says "We wish to set before the public certain facts concerning the mail service between this place and Portland premising that what we state comes with authority The public are well acquainted with the work of last season (by the Line) and the fact that the C R T Co better known as the Teaser Company carried the mail since last July. Early in January last Mr D M French, proprietor of the boats Teaser and Otter notified Mr Moody by letter Mr Moody being in Portland at the time that except on certain conditions with which Mr Moody did not feel justified in complying he would cease carrying the mail and tie up the boats on and after January 9 1875 On the 9th of January the river closed Mr Moody being still in Portland since that time we have received our mails overland and have been well served in that respect as compared with former years On Mr Moody's return from Portland, he met Mr French and finding that no satisfactory arrangements could be entered into for a continuance of their business relations in the matter of the transportation of mails they had a final settlement Mr Moody has now made arrangements with the O S N Co to perform the mail service on this route, and when the ice shall disappear and the river be again open for transportation they will take the mails for us"

AN "OLD GAG."—For some time past a paragraph has been going the rounds of the eastern press in regard to a young lady and gentleman who to be a little smart, thought they would go through the ceremony of a mock marriage at a social party The story goes on to relate that the person who performed what was supposed to be a sham ceremony proved to be a genuine justice of the peace, and the couple found themselves married for keeps Judge of our surprise on looking at the Bulletin of Wednesday morning to read the same old story in the local column under the heading of "In a Fix" "A" local name and habitation was given the paragraph and it was dished up in approved style. On second thought we can pardon the theft when we ascertained that it was taken from the Astorian the editor of that paper having made the required changes to disguise its origin The story however, is a little too old and the flimsy covering of originality too transparent Try again gentlemen

DEATH OF MISS MAY WYCHE.—A contemporary in speaking of the death of Miss Wyche, says "A singular cloud of sorrow rests upon us almost obscuring from our vision the lines on which we trace the sad intelligence of the death of Miss May Wyche—the last member of the beautiful family of the late Hon Judge Wyche of Washington Territory May had recently returned to San Francisco with her devoted aunt, Mrs R Sexton, and there she died on Wednesday the 10th inst, in the 18th year of her age Thus, within the brief space of three years, a family of four persons all remarkable for their personal attractions, superior intelligence, and many Christian virtues, have passed away to that far off home from whence none ever return Her estimable grandmother Mrs Bancroft on whom this blow falls with heavy weight, resides in Portland. To her and the numerous friends, far and near, we extend our deepest sympathies in this time of their great bereavement"

ANOTHER MAN.—In our police court reports yesterday morning the name of Peter Eddy occurs, that individual it is stated having been arrested for indecent exposure Now it so occurs that Mr Peter Eddy, who by the way is a very estimable gentleman, engaged in business in this city was in no manner whatever connected with the disgraceful scene mentioned His name came to be mentioned in this wise Mr Eddy had in his employ a man named Chas Curly who came over from the Sound a few days ago, got on a big drunk, and was arrested for making a shameless exhibition of himself On being taken to the city jail and searched, two letters addressed to Mr Eddy were found in his possession As Curly was too drunk to give his own name, the officers supposed his real cognomen was Eddy, and so entered it on the arrest book Curly was rightly served yesterday morning by being fined $15, and in default sent to jail seven days

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—T T Struble collector for the Water Company, met with a painful accident a few days since He was melting some lead at the time with which to solder up the joint of a water main Without thinking of the consequences Mr Struble hastily placed the large iron ladle used in dipping out the metal, into the melted mass Quick as a flash there was a sputtering like report and a quantity of the liquid metal was thrown up, striking him full in the face His hat and clothes also came in for a full share of the fiery shower As a natural result, Mr Struble's face was badly burned He was taken home at once and a physician summoned The injured man was soon relieved and is now able to attend to his accustomed duties It is providential that his eyesight was not totally destroyed The ladle was cold and had not been used since the freeze-up and the explosion was doubtless caused by the frost which was still in the iron

ALDEN DRIED FRUIT.—The shipment of fruit from Oregon to Europe is yet an untried experiment but will not long remain so, as Messrs Corbitt & Macleay of this city have two large boxes of the article ready for shipment to Liverpool on the ship Conflict which they are now loading at Astoria The fruit was prepared by the Alden Fruit Drying Co at Salem and is neatly packed for the voyage If it should reach Liverpool in good condition, many shipments of the same character will likely follow, and in time this branch of industry in Oregon may become much more a source of profit than it has heretofore

BOAT FOR SHOALWATER BAY TRADE.—A company, we understand, has recently been organized at Shoalwater Bay for the purpose of constructing a new steamer designed for and expressly adapted to meet the requirements of that trade The new boat will ply about the waters of the bay and serve as a tug freight and passenger craft, as occasion may require It is not yet definitely settled but is more than probable that the new boat will be a propeller Her dimensions will be length about 85 feet, beam, 18 feet hold, 8 feet Machinery of ample power will be placed in the craft

MATRON OF THE B S G SCHOOL.—The Enterprise says "Mrs J G Campbell of this city left last Monday, for Portland, where she has accepted the position of matron of the Bishop Scott Grammar School We congratulate the management of that institution on having secured the services of Mrs Campbell for we doubt whether one more competent to fill the position could be found in the State She is a lady in every respect fully suited for the position."

ENTERTAINMENT.—Last evening the Unitarian church was filled with a large fashionable and discriminating audience to listen to the readings connected with Scottish history as announced in our last issue. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the young people connected with the church. We have not space to particularize the individual performances, but will content ourself by saying the entire entertainment was highly successful and afforded the audience a real literary treat

HEBREW LADIES' FAIR

At night there was a perfect crush nearly all the former frequenters were on hand again, and with them came hundreds for the first time The receipts were much larger than on any previous day although visitors were not as persistently pressed to invest as on previous evenings. The scene in the hall was indeed gay and festive The pleasant weather drove many from their homes and the fair was made the resort of old and young—of husbands and wives parents with their children and beaux with their sweethearts The music withal was excellent and very many lingered until 11 o clock to participate in the dance All in all it was one of the most sociable gatherings ever witnessed in Portland Before the close the committee announced that the hall would be open to-day (Friday) between the hours of 1 and 4 o clock in order to continue the raffling After which the fair will close until Saturday evening at 7 o clock and we predict a lively time on that occasion The important feature of the day was the raffling for articles on which the chances had been filled During the afternoon a large number of people were present and considerable business done at the booths The following list comprises all the articles which have thus far been raffled The name of the article is given, and the winning number

A phantom party took place at the residence of W W Spaulding Esq corner of [illegible] and [illegible] streets last evening Some 60 invitations were issued and a number of those invited responded As many will ask what constitutes a phantom party we will simply state that it is what some call a sheet and pillow case sociable The people intending to participate are required to bring a sheet and pillow case and upon arriving at the place of entertainment a committee of ladies are in waiting to arrange these articles so as to cover the person in such a manner as to completely disguise the wearer with the addition of a muslin mask So disguised the participants assume the appearance of phantoms and the name applied is thus made applicable The idea of a number of persons attired in this manner must appear comical and so it was last night For an hour or more the fun was kept up when tired of the masquerade the wearer threw off the ghost like dress and appeared in drawing room apparel The laughter that followed the change was loud and continuous With dancing social intercourse games and to cap all a substantial supper the time passed away in a most agreeable manner It was past the hour of one when the party came to an end

Several soldiers at the garrison under the name of the "Arlington Minstrels" gave an entertainment last Saturday evening which was well attended From the cheering which was heard from the outside we judged that the audience were highly entertained.

The City Council are still in trouble about the matter of the townsite The chief difficulty now is in paying the attorneys at Washington who secured for them the patent for the townsite The people living on land outside of that claimed by the city insist upon these expenses being paid by the residents on the land in question and threaten to serve an injunction on the city fathers to restrain them from borrowing money or levying any further tax upon the city after paying the $1 000 first agreed upon Although these are idle threats the members of the Council are intimidated and are undecided how to act

We are still icebound The steamer Vancouver makes occasional trips to a point within three miles of the town where the ice is gorged. From this point to Vancouver, and for a considerable distance up the river the Columbia is full of ice With the present weather the ice may remain for a week or more before it moves down the river The Vancouver has no difficulty in making her trips as far as she comes, but the irregularity with which she makes these trips is causing a great deal of grumbling and is turning public sympathy toward the grangers' boat

General Howard U S A has been entertaining the people of Vancouver with lectures on the late war On Tuesday evening he lectured at the Methodist church on the battle of Gettysburg A very good audience was in attendance The general favored us with a description of the principal scenes of the battle illustrating the chief points occupied by the two armies during the progress of the battle and the strategic movements by diagrams of the situation The lecture was interspersed with incidents of army life which made the whole very entertaining and giving general satisfaction This (Wednesday) evening the general lectured in the chapel at the garrison to an audience composed of the officers and their families, soldiers and a few invited guests The subject of the lecture this evening was "Sherman's March to the Sea" This lecture to us was still more interesting than the one on the previous evening while all seemed pleased with it and we doubt not will long carry with them pleasant memories of Gen Howard's visit to Vancouver

THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURGH

GENERAL HOWARD'S LECTURE AT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER Feb 18 1875

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Night before last General Howard delivered in the Methodist Chapel, his excellent lecture on the Battle of Gettysburgh, for the benefit of the church to a well filled and appreciative house. The interest of the lecture was greatly enhanced by accompanying maps and diagrams of the battle ground and country adjacent thereto The General began by stating the significant importance of a victory to the Federal arms at that time He gave a clear and faithful delineation of the political and military condition of the country just anterior to the battle and then took the belligerent armies to Gettysburgh and maneuvered them through that terrible struggle on which the fate of the country depended I had read nearly every historical account extant on it, and I am free to acknowledge that I never quite understood it before There is something remarkable in the General's manner of speaking. One is profoundly impressed with the idea that he is telling the truth all the time which is a great advantage a speaker has before popular assemblies That lecture should be delivered to many more audiences in this country It is much needed, for we were fast forgetting the cost of our liberties in the general desire to forgive and placate the aggressive people who brought on that war And we were also losing our respect for the officers of the army on account of the pompous and arbitrary ways of some of them, so disgusting to freemen But we must remember that the country was saved by the good men in the army. We ought to thank God that we had a few men in the army like Canby, Howard and Grant

The Echo thinks that if the marshal of Olympia would attend church he would there have occasion to make a few arrests Little boys and big boys and large maidens take delight and an active part in attracting the attention of the audience away from the minister. Such acts as actual flirtations, getting under benches and groaning during revival scenes and using too freely the bell rope are extremely out of place in a religious meeting

THE ANGEL OF PAIN.

Angel of Pain, I think thy face
Will be, in all the heavenly place,
The sweetest face that I shall see,
The swiftest face to smile on me.
All other angels faint and tire;
Joy wearies and forsakes desire;
Hope falters face to face with Fate,
And dies because it cannot wait;
And Love cuts short each loving day,
Because fond hearts cannot obey
That subtlest law which measures bliss
By what it is content to miss.
But thou, oh loving, faithful Pain,
Hated, reproached, rejected, slain,
Dost only closer cling and bless
In sweeter, stronger steadfastness.
Dear, patient Angel, to thine own
Thou comest, and art never known
Till late in some lone, twilight place,
The light of thy transfigured face
Sudden shines out, and speechless they
Know they have walked with Christ all day.

HUMOROUS.

When boys stand on their heads they appear to occupy a false position in the world.

No young man is proof against a gumdrop when she holds it between her teeth and invites him to take a bite.

An auctioneer once advertised a lot of chairs, which, he said, had been "used by school children without backs."

"Birdie" is what a young husband fondly calls his wife, because, as he says, she is always associated in his mind with a bill.

An uncle left eleven silver spoons to his nephew in his will, adding, "He knows the reason I have not left him the whole dozen."

When a man reminds you that you owe him, just make a note of it. He will take more interest in the matter if you humor him in that way.

An unsuccessful lover was asked by what means he lost his divinity. "Alas!" cried he, "I flattered her until she got too proud to speak to me."

"Lord, what a cow!" was the approving remark of a teetotal Judge of Vermont, after swallowing a potent punch which had been offered to him as a glass of milk.

The old gentleman who spent a fortune in endeavoring to hatch colts from horse chestnuts, is now cultivating egg plants with a view to raising chickens from it.

There is a man in Haverhill, Mass., who claims to have traded horses thirty-seven times and cheated the other man every time, and yet when his wife died the other day, he promised to meet her in heaven.

A gallant wag who was sitting beside his beloved, and being unable to think of anything to say, asked her why she was like a tailor? "I don't know," said she, with a pouting lip, "unless it is because I am sitting beside a goose."

According to the Grand Haven (Mich.) Herald, the champion mover left Ferrysburg the other day, for a home at Maple Valley, where he intends to "settle." He has been married seven years and has six children, and has moved fifty-four times.

Talk about your domestic bliss. An Indianapolis husband notifies all persons "not to let my wife, Martha, have morphine," and in an appendix asks, as a particular favor, that his friends will not let him have any intoxicating drinks of any kind, unless prescribed by a physician.

A boy, six years old, having been much lectured by his father on the boyishness of crying when any calamity happened, cheered the parental heart the other morning by saying, "Harry Bolton cried nearly all day 'cause his father died; but if you should die, pa, I wouldn't cry a bit."

A Yankee poet thus breaks forth: "Oh, the snore, the beautiful snore; filling the chamber from ceiling to floor! Over the coverlet, under the sheet, from her wee dimpled chin to her pretty feet! Now rising aloft like a bee in June; now flute-like subduing, then rising again, is the beautiful snore of Elizabeth Jane."

Long ago, during the Millerite fever, when ascension robes were in order and all where listening for the chariot wheels, a good couple had retired one night—the man somewhat visionary, but his wife practical enough. In the chill of a midwinter night he awoke, hearing a slight noise, and gently nudged his sleeping partner. "Wife, I hear the chariot wheels of God." "Lie still, John, you old fool; The Lord wouldn't come on wheels with such good sleighing."

THE ENGLISH IN ARABIA—STRENGTHENING THEIR INDIA EMPIRE.—An insurrection has broken out in the Turkish province of Nedjid, and the Govenor-General of Bagdad has proceeded with several high officials to Basra, to take the command of the troops. The regulars having been withdrawn from the province, under the pretext that the climate was not suitable to Turkish soldiers, the administration was intrusted to an Arab, who had three battalions of gendarmes under his orders. Soud, the chief of the Wahabees, then took possession of several fortified places in Nedjid, with the assistance of 300 armed men sent to him from Bahrein by an Arab named Abdurrahman, who is reported to have received a subsidy for this purpose from the English Government. A battle has occurred between Soud and the gendarmes, in which the latter were defeated, with the loss of several officers and a great number of men. The Governor-General of Bagdad, on being informed of the result, sent three battalions of riflemen to relieve the town of Hofuf (Hassa), which was besieged by the insurgents. The English are laboring indefatigably to obtain possession of the whole of this part of Arabia; for if they become masters of Mecca and Medina their rule over the millions of Mussulmans in India will be secured for all time. Muscat, which is nominally under the rule of a native Prince, and Bahrein have long been practically English provinces. The conduct of the English on the Persian Gulf explains the ill-humor manifested by the Turkish Government to England on every occasion. The semi-official Turquie takes advantage of every trifling collision with the police in England to predict the downfall of the British Empire; the engineers of Tophane have not yet received the wages due to them by contract; the Turkish newspapers are constantly inciting their co-religionists in India to resist the British authorities; and in all the provinces—in Syria, Tripoli and Bagdad—the officials seek to place difficulties in the way of the British merchants.

MALLEABLE GLASS.—M. de la Bastie, who is a rich gentleman residing at his chateau in France, with the assistance of a learned and experienced chemist, has succeeded, after a long series of scientific experiments, during nearly six years, in discovering the process of making malleable glass, which, instead of being brittle, is as ductile as copper or iron. Samples of it have been presented to scientific institutions, and the news of this great discovery is spreading rapidly in France, England, Prussia and America. M. de la Bastie, in order to secure for himself the benefit due to long, persevering and successful efforts, is forming a company, and has taken out a patent right for his discovery. A large building for the manufacture of said glass has been commenced at a cost of $625,000. The building is 163 yards wide by 100 yards in depth. It has been assured that utensils, such as frying-pans, etc., can be used on a hot range, and will resist the fire just as well as iron or any other metal. Also glass chimneys for lamp and gas burners are made and will not break. In fact, there is no limit to the variety of articles which can be made of malleable glass.

On the 3d inst. the snow was four feet deep at Eng Em, Baker county.

While our local money market moves along in its accustomed channels with very few items demanding call for comment, there are few reasons to doubt that the inevitable tendency of events in the United States at large is toward a much more disturbed condition of finances generally than occurred even in the well remembered days of September and October, 1873, when the great panic ran through the land, shaking some of the soundest commercial fabrics in almost every city of the Union. Notwithstanding the clamor which was made for the passage by Congress of the act providing for the resumption of specie payments, now that the act has become a law, not one in a hundred has any well-founded hope that it will become operative, and not one in a thousand any well-defined idea as to how it can be made so. An Eastern commercial writer asks what seems to be the reasonable question, when speaking of the matter. He inquires: "How can a man without money redeem his outstanding notes? and how can the government resume without she has the specie to resume with? Will she have it when, by its provisions, the law should go into effect? Let us look at some figures: The exports of treasure from New York for the past year, says the Bankers and Depositors, exceeded $60,000,050. If we add the shipments foreign from San Francisco, we shall approximate the total sent out of the country in 1874, as follows:

Shipped from New York	$61,725,030
Shipped from San Francisco	9,405,100
Total	$71,131,000

The exports from Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia will probably swell the total to $75,000,000. The estimated production of the precious metals in this country last year was $74,400,000. We have no data as to the exact amount imported in the United States last year, but it is evident that we are not accumulating a surplus of coin and bullion very fast; and unless there can be a large increase in the production or a decrease in the exports, we see little prospect for a resumption of specie payments. The amount of gold in the United States treasury on the 1st of January was $82,587,000, but $23,540,030 of this amount belongs to private individuals, who hold government certificates therefor. There are some indications that the bullion product of the Pacific States and Territories for 1875 will be larger than for any previous year, but the increase in no event is likely to compensate nearly for the probable deficiency in exports below last year or to bring the balance of trade in our favor.

The fair amount of trade in our city markets, noticed from time to time, since the breaking up of the ice, continues with but little interruption. Prices of imported goods manifest but slight tendency to fluctuation. A very steady tone prevails; and with the well-selected, though not large stocks on hand, our merchants are filling the orders on hand with dispatch, and a general feeling of confidence is prevalent, notwithstanding recent events, which have had some tendency to induce discouragement.

The receipts of produce during the week have been large, and with the activity in shipping circles which has prevailed, our city has presented a more business-like appearance than for any previous time since the new year began.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—We are informed that a telegram from Liverpool, received in this city to-day, quotes Oregon cargoes offering in that market at 45s per quarter and no takers. Under such news it is a matter of some surprise that our home market keeps up as it does, to $1 37½, and some buyers even quote cargo lots at a slight advance on these rates.

FLOUR—There are some very large lots in the market, and prices seem to favor buyers. Shipments are quite active, and dealers are evidently working on small margins. We quote best brands at $4 25@4 50 per bbl; good outside and country brands $4, superfine $3 50@3 75 and dull.

OATS—The receipts during the week have averaged less than last, but the current demand is fairly supplied at 40@50c per bushel, sacks included.

BARLEY—There are but few transactions to note or to fix prices. Quotations include common feed to choice brewing and are furnished at $1 30@1 45, the latter only for the best.

HAY—No change in prices since last week; the supply is full for the current demand; good timothy quotable at $12@12 50 per ton.

POTATOES—The receipts are larger than last week and prices are slightly down; jobbing rates for good qualities 1¼c ₩ lb, without sacks.

ONIONS—There is a slightly increased movement and choice lots command $1 25@1 37 ₩ 100 lbs.

BACON—The supply is good and trade sound but improved. Quotations are 8@12½c ₩ lb for sides, 13½@15 ₩ lb for hams, and 8@9c for shoulders. Exports are light at this season.

LARD—A good article in kegs quotable at 12@12½ cents ₩ lb; in tins, 13@13½c.

BUTTER—The market is in better supply than last week, and prices have a downward tendency. We quote fresh roll and fancy print for table use at 35@37½c ₩ lb, lower grades ranging from 20@25c, according to quality.

EGGS—The fancy prices reached early in the week have given way under full receipts, and quotations are furnished to-day at 30c ₩ dozen, with a weakening tendency.

APPLES (GREEN)—We quote the few varieties in the market at 75c@$1 ₩ box.

DRIED APPLES—We quote the market as [illegible]ing. In sacks are not favored at more than 4@5c ₩ lb; in kegs, 5c.

CHICKENS—Choice lots of full grown are worth $4@4 25 ₩ dozen; common and mixed, $3 25@3 75.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvelous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, than can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment and hereditary predisposition all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, by long and extensive use has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE!

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, COR. COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and others requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at the pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and broken-down constitutions; disqualified for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, [illegible] tend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies. See that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study, and who is certain to cure the [illegible] without mercury or any injurious drugs. [illegible] portant to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretenders who are now in all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual [illegible] practiced by the youth of both sexes to an unlimited extent, producing [illegible] ty, the following train of morbid symptoms, combatted by scientific medical measures, low countenance, dark spots [illegible] the head, ringing in the ears, [illegible] of leaves and rustling of [illegible] the loins, weakness of the limbs, [illegible] blunted intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and eruptions about the face, furred tongue, [illegible] coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania, frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific method of treating this disease, which never fails in effecting a quick and radical cure. [illegible] will forfeit Five Hundred Dollars to any person [illegible] will prove satisfactorily to him that he was [illegible] of such complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these [illegible] maladies, [illegible] forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give each patient a written instrument, binding him to effect a radical and permanent cure or no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Post-office or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, impose on the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, mail carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry; it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting false titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Postoffice Box [illegible]. REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform Dr. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the OREGONIAN.

VOL. XV.—NO. 15.

EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Minnesota has a Senator at Last.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 19.—On the first ballot in joint convention S. J. McMillan was elected U. S. Senator by a vote of 82 to 61 for Lochren. McMillan is the present Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, is a man of moderate ability, but unimpeachable integrity; has always been a Republican, but having been on the bench many years, has not been an active participant in politics.

Railway Casualty.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 19.—At 2 o'clock this morning the southern express train on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St Louis railroad, was thrown from the track near Meigs' Junction, Ohio, and the baggage, two passenger, two sleepers, and one special car were burned. The baggage was all destroyed. No lives lost. Eight persons wounded. J. N. McCullough, first vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, had three ribs broken and was cut about the head.

Gov. Tilden and Mayor Wickham Disagree.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Gov. Tilden and Mayor Wickham have had correspondence with relation to the removal of municipal officers. The Governor declines to approve or disapprove the act of removal by the Mayor before he has submitted to him all the proofs and documents in the case, and adds that in case the Mayor persists in denying his (the Governor's) right to the proofs in his (the Mayor's) possession, he will, when the business of his office permits, make an independent investigation.

Sudden Death of Senator McDonald's Wife.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—The young wife of the newly elected U. S. Senator, Jos. E. McDonald, of Indiana, died suddenly, in Indianapolis, yesterday. She was married only six months ago.

The Potter Law not to be Repealed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—It is stated that Milwaukee press dispatches published on Monday last, announcing the decision of the Wisconsin railroad commissioners to recommend the repeal of the Potter law, was incorrect. The commissioners made no such recommendation, and it is altogether probable that the bill they did prepare for the modification of the law won't pass.

Thurlow Weed on Political Affairs.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The Tribune to-morrow will publish a long letter from Thurlow Weed, to [illegible] Smith, upon national and political topics, in regard to the revolution established by the late elections. He says the great stumbling block which injures the Republican party more than anything else, and which will destroy it unless it is done away with, is the third term aspirations of Gen. Grant and the timid attitude of the party leaders in relation to them. He distinctly charges Grant with the responsibility of allowing the defeat of the party rather than to disavow these aspirations. He believes the resumption of specie payment is entirely practicable within a reasonable time and without serious injury to the industries of the country. He says it is not so much that specie is required for general use or circulation, as that the people should be assured that specie can be obtained when actually needed. A general determination to resume would go more than half way toward its accomplishment. The New York gold exchange, he thinks, the heaviest drag in the way of resumption. He favors gradual contraction, though he is doubtful of the expediency in the present condition of trade in the country. He thinks the great need of the day is statesmen of pure character, and that too much of the time of Congress has been consumed by the civil rights bill, a bill in its general scope and purpose of questionable wisdom. All has been done by constitutional amendments and congressional enactments that is necessary to place freedmen upon perfect equality with our race. In regard to the next Presidency he is not sanguine of a Republican success, and says, "I would prefer the election of an enlightened and honest Democrat as President to the election of an incapable Republican of equivocal integrity. When I speak of an honest and enlightened Democrat, I have in my mind some such men as Gen. Hancock or Gen. Ward, at one time minister to China, from Georgia, or as far as I have been able to form an opinion of his ability and character, Gov. Newton Booth, newly elected Senator from California."

The City of Tokio.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The City of Tokio arrived at Panama from New York, via Aspinwall and Straits of Magellan.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Private Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The reading of yesterday's journal, this morning, showed there were passed last night 13 bills granting pensions to individuals.

Gen. Butler Declines to Deliver a Speech.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—A Maryland delegation to-day invited Gen. Butler to deliver an address at the agricultural fair next fall. Butler declined, saying he expected to be traveling in Europe at that time.

Appropriation for the Round Valley Reservation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Among the amendments inserted in the Indian appropriation bill was one to-day, appropriating $20,000, to liquidate any claims on the Round Valley Indian reservation, California, as shall be found valid by virtue of the pre-emption or homestead entry.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The credentials of Angus Cameron, senator from Wisconsin, and Joseph E. McDonald, senator from Indiana, were presented and filed.

Wright, from the committee on civil service, reported a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five senators to examine and investigate the several branches of the civil service, with a view to the reorganization of the various departments thereof, reduction of expenses, etc., and to report a bill next session. He gave notice that he should call up the resolution to-morrow.

Edmunds gave notice that as soon as the Indian appropriation bill was disposed of he would move to take up and dispose of the civil rights bill.

Logan asked that Wednesday evening of next week be assigned for the consideration of the bill which recently passed the House for equalizing bounties.

A discussion ensued, during which Sargent said he understood this bill took $180,000,000 from the treasury, and he was opposed to it. Other matters of equal importance demanded the attention of the Senate. For instance, he would be glad to have his friend from Indiana (Morton) call up the resolution for the admission of Pinchback as soon as possible. This was a question of peace or war and should be settled.

Logan then gave notice that he would next week persist in pressing the Bounty bill until he got a vote. He said the bill wouldn't take twenty millions from the treasury.

House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Several bills, memorials, etc., were introduced, including a bill for Pacific R. R. Co., to amend act incorporating the Texas Pacific R. R. Co. Ordered printed and recommitted.

Dawes endeavored to get up the revenue bill, but the House, by a vote of 117 to 115, decided to go into committee of the whole on the private calendar, which was the regular order.

The House Pacific railroad committee agreed this morning, by a vote of 6 to 5, to report and recommend the passage of the Texas Pacific R. R. bill, as agreed to by the sub-committee.

Before coming to a vote on the first bill on the calendar the House rose and went into committee of the whole, Wilson, of Iowa, in the chair. In the army appropriation bill, which appropriates nearly $28,000,000, the amendment to reduce the army from 25,000 to 22,000 was rejected.

Cox moved an amendment providing that the army shall not be used to subvert the rights and liberties, or interfere with legislatures of States of the Union, and that no sum shall be paid out of the treasury until the U. S. troops now in the State of Louisiana shall be withdrawn from that State. He said he would not speak in favor of the amendment. There was precedent in the army bill of 1856.

Wheeler asked if he approved of driving the Kansas legislature out of doors under the directions of Jefferson Davis, then Secretary of War.

Cox said he spoke against it.

Wheeler then sent to the clerk's desk and had read a number of the Congressional Globe containing that debate.

Cox endeavored to be heard, but was interrupted by cries of "read, read," from the Republican side, and the clerk read where Cox declared himself in favor of encouraging the heart and strengthening the arm of the executive. The Republicans were triumphant.

Cox asked the date of that debate. On being informed that it was July, 1856, he said that that was Leander L. Cox, of Kentucky. He himself was not a member of Congress at the time. The Democrats here ironically shouted "read, read," and were, in turn jubilant. Wheeler apologized by saying he was misled by his colleague's saying he spoke against this proceeding.

Cox also apologized for getting his friend into such a snap, and explained that the titter on the other side was so loud he was unable to make himself heard. He paid a hearty compliment to his colleague, but said he ought to know more since he had charge of an appropriation bill.

Cox's amendment was rejected.

After a few minor amendments, the committee rose, and reported the bill to the House and it was passed.

Poland, from the select committee on Arkansas affairs, reported a resolution that, in its judgment, no interference was necessary in Government affairs. Adjourned.
